BIDS TONIGHTCity Council Will Award Contract For Oiling Streets if Price is Not
Exorbitant.

AS WAS THE CASE LAST YEAR

According to Contracts in Other
Cities, Price Here Should be
Less Than 6 Cents.

Tonight is the time set by the city council for the receiving of bids for oiling the streets of Rushville. The streets are very dusty and the residents hope that the work will soon start. There is a chance, of course, that the council will reject all bids and give the people the right to do their own oiling, but because of the late start the people are in the hopes that the council will award the contract.

The bids to be received by the council must not be too high as the council will not stand for an exorbitant price. This was the cause last year of the council rejecting all bids. In fact last year only two bids were received and they were so near alike that the council refused to accept either because they were higher than the council thought they should be paid.

In the plans this year the council changed the quantity of oil to be applied to the square yard and the cost, because of this, should not be as great as last year, if for no other reason. Members of the council are determined that the price must be right before the contract is awarded. It will be remembered that last year the council advertised for bids and then because the price was too high rejected all bids. It was late in the season and many thought that the council should have gone ahead, but the cost was too great. Under the law the oiling is done as a public improvement and taxed to the property owners.

The oiling here should cost less than six cents a running foot, according to the contract price in other cities. In Lafayette, Ind., the successful bid for the oiling of thirty-foot streets was six cents a running foot and under their plans and specifications as compared with those of Rushville the price should be less than that here.

In Lafayette the contractor is compelled to do many things that the contractor will not have to do here. The contractor there was compelled to clean and remove all dust from the roadway by sweeping. The plans called for the sweeping to be done between the hours of eleven o'clock p. m., and six o'clock a. m. After the application of the oil, under these plans, a thin covering of sharp sand must be spread over the surface to absorb any surplus oil. This is an additional cost and is not provided for in the Rushville plans and specifications. One cubic yard of the sand is expected to cover from 150 to 175 square yards of surface.

It will be seen that under the Lafayette plans the cost would necessarily be greater than it should be here and for this reason the cost should be under six cents a running foot. The oil used in Lafayette at the time the contract was let cost four and one-half cents a gallon. This was about one month ago and since then has fallen off in price. With all these things taken into consideration it is hard to see how the people of the city can be held up on the price of street oiling by the contractors.

Norways had an unusually heavy herring catch. It netted handsome returns to the fishermen.

JURY OUT TEN MINUTES

And Returned Verdict For Defendants in Contract Suit.

The jury in the case of George F. Roots against James and Mary Sage, on a contract, demanding $175, returned a verdict for the defendants late yesterday afternoon. The jury was out only about ten minutes and took only one ballot to reach a decision. The case was based on a board bill that the plaintiff alleged was due him. He alleged that he had a contract for four months' board and that it had never been fulfilled.

RUNAWAY HORSE
TEARS UP BUGGY

Animal Belonging to Bert Hobbs Terrifies People in Downtown District Late at Night.

SCATTERS WHEELS IN STREET

A practically new buggy belonging to Bert Hobbs, living on the Alvan Moor farm, northeast of the city, was destroyed last night in a thrilling runaway. The horse started from the Smallley livery barn in South Perkins street and ran west in First street. In attempting to make the turn into Main street one of the wheels was lost, but the horse kept on going. It turned east in Second street and also ran into the city sprinkler at the corner of Second and Perkins street. The horse dashed up on the lawn at the home of Mrs. A. B. Flynn and two more wheels were left there.

This did not stop the animal and he continued in his mad flight, finally leaving the badly battered rig in front of Dr. Frank Green's residence in North Perkins street. The runaway occurred about ten-thirty o'clock last night and several people on the streets at the time had close calls from being run over.

DEATH TODAY IS RATHER SUDDEN

Mrs. Wayne Wellman, Who Has Been Sick With Bright's Disease, Was Not Believed Critical.

HAS STROKE OF APOPLEXY

Mrs. Dora Wellman, 51 years old, wife of Wayne Wellman, died this afternoon shortly before two o'clock at her home southeast of the city. Mrs. Wellman had been in ill health for a long time suffering from Bright's disease, but her death was rather sudden and came as a shock to her many friends. At eleven o'clock this morning Mrs. Wellman suffered a stroke of apoplexy and this hastened her death. While she has been in a serious condition the past few days, her death was not expected.

She is survived by her husband and father, Henry Starke. She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Stiers of Newcastle, Mrs. Edward Logan and Mrs. Edward Holman, and one brother, John Starke. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

The ladies of the Orange Christian church will give a festival in the school auditorium in Orange Saturday night.

TO NAME COUNTY
TICKET SATURDAY

Democrats Will Hold Convention at Coliseum to Pick Candidates For Several Offices.

MANY AFTER NOMINATION

Hottest Race Appears to be Between Cary Jackson and O. J. Cook.—Township Meeting Places.

The Democrats of Rush county will hold their county nominating convention Saturday afternoon in the coliseum. The arrangements for the convention are rapidly being completed and County Chairman Samuel L. Trabue is looking for a record breaking crowd. The delegates will meet in the morning by townships and select their members to the various committees.

Chairman Trabue announced today that the permanent officers of the convention would be selected and recommended by the rules and order committee and that they would not be named before hand as is commonly done by conventions. There will be 268 delegates in the convention, making 135 votes necessary for choice.

Several contests are promised at the convention that should prove quite interesting. Judge John D. Megee and Prosecutor Donald Smith have no opposition for the nominations and none is expected to develop. Both were appointed to their respective offices by Governor Ralston when Rush county was placed in a separate judicial district.

A nice fight is expected for the nomination of treasurer. There are two candidates, Cary Jackson of this city and Oliver J. Cook of Richland township. It is generally conceded that Mr. Jackson will be given the nomination although there is some opposition and Mr. Cook may give him a close race. Mr. Cook was the first to announce and was followed by Mr. Jackson. Mr. Jackson has served the Democratic party well, being elected to the legislature and then as joint-senator from the counties of Rush, Fayette and Hancock. He recently resigned the joint-senatorship to make the race for county treasurer. Mr. Cook is equally as well known and should make a good race for the nomination.

There are also two candidates for county recorder they are Don M. Casady of this city and Thomas Gray of Ripley township. Mr. Casady is a young business man here and both candidates have been working hard. Mr. Casady ran for city clerk on the Democrat ticket last fall.

The only candidate for representative is Bert Benner, cashier of the Mays bank. Mr. Benner only announced his candidacy last night. Voorhees Cavitt has no opposition for sheriff and will receive the nomination for a second term.

There are two candidates for surveyor, Will Dill and Adolphus Cameron. Adolphus Cameron has served two terms and it is more than likely that Mr. Dill will receive the nomination. James Tarplee is the only candidate for county assessor.

There are three candidates for commissioner of the middle district. They are Henry Beckner of Jackson township, Sabert Offutt of Arlington and Elijah Billings. So far only one candidate has announced for commissioner of the northern district. The candidate is Bert Cohee.

The committee appointed to decorate the coliseum is composed of Voorhees Cavitt, Joe Diekmann and Stanton McBride. The resolutions committee will meet in the law office of J. T. Arbuckle. The committee on credentials

AUTOMOBILES
START FRIDAY

Flying Squadrons Advertising Big Wednesday Will Cover the Entire County Tomorrow.

PLAN TO GET AN EARLY START

Lesson Which Big Wednesday Teachers is One Worthy of Emulation, it is Declared.

Flying squadrons of automobiles to cover the entire county advertising Big Wednesday, the first one of the season which will be held next week, will leave Rushville early tomorrow morning. It was thought probable that one or two machines might make a trip this afternoon. Fifteen automobiles had been promised and more are expected to make the trip.

In a statement issued from Chamber of Commerce headquarters today, the value of Big Wednesday to the community was shown. The statement says:

When a large number of merchants in a town where rivalry is keen can get together on a proposition like Big Wednesday, and cast aside prejudices for the good of all, it is time to "sit up and take notice." Remember, too, that these same progressive business men are out to help the other men as well, and are willing to throw trade to the men who do not realize the advantage of such big days. There is surely a subtle spirit moving in our midst, and business men are forgetting their selfish interests in working for the common good. They realize that what is good for all alike benefits each one, and are working together to make Rush county patrons proud of this city as the best representative county seat in this state.

Cities exist for business purposes. No one can do without our city business houses. If they don't trade in Rushville, they do somewhere else. They have to buy and sell somewhere. If they live in Rush county and trade out of it, there must be a reason. The Rushville merchants want to seek out these persons and try to remove the objections. They cannot do it by jealousy, nor by too independent an attitude, nor by storming at people in print. Some men have tried all three, perhaps. In a progressive age, the business men realize this and the get-together movement is well exemplified in such an enterprise as Big Wednesday.

This movement is not for the good of Rushville alone. The out-of-town people will learn that Rushville is the natural center of Rush county trade, and that they will benefit also by using this most convenient center to do business in. They must be willing to try it a while, to give the Rushville business men a chance to prove it.

Mr. Farmer, if you have a grouse, bring it to town on Big Wednesday, and leave it here. If Rushville is to stay better than the surrounding towns, you must help us keep it so.

WINTERS TRIAL SET
TODAY FOR JULY 10

Joint Affidavit in Which Doctor, Wife and Cooper Are Charged With Conspiracy to be Heard.

PROBE WILL BE CONTINUED

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., June 4.—Judge Jackson today set the trial of Dr. W. A. Winters, Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper, charged jointly in an indictment by Detective R. H. Abel with conspiring to murder and burn the body of Catherine Winters, for Friday, July 10 in the circuit court. All three are at liberty on $1,000 bonds. They were first arrested and their bonds placed at $5,000, but when the second charge was made, their bonds were reduced.

The prosecutor was in court and no effort was made to quash the affidavit against the three defendants. Alec Gorman, former chief of police of Richmond, Ind., was in the city today in conference with Mayor Watkins.

Chester Dewitt, county attorney, has also identified himself with the case and it is understood will assist Prosecutor Myers. The investigations will continue, according to statements made by the officials, and further developments may be made known.

WINTERS SAYS HE'S BIT OF DETECTIVE

Accused Newcastle Physician, in Columbus Today, Declares he is Looking up Detective Abel.

CALLS HIM A "FOURFLUSHER"

(By United Press.)

Columbus, Ind., June 4.—Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters came to Columbus today on the heels of detective Abel. Dr. Winters is very bitter against Abel and calls him a "four-flusher." The doctor said:

"Abel came to me and wanted me to join with him in convicting W. R. Cooper who is an innocent man. I refused to do anything with the matter he had no evidence. Then he turned on me and my wife and filed charges of murder against us."

Dr. Winters says he is a bit of a detective himself and has been collecting evidence against Abel to be used later.

EXPENSE MONEY A QUESTION

Fears Delay Will Give Mrs. Winters and Cooper Chance to Make Defense-Chemists' Denial

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—Robert H. Abel, the detective who worked on the Winters case reappeared here today. He told the United Press that he would return to Newcastle and give Judge Jackson enough of his evidence to warrant the appointment of a prosecutor to assist Prosecutor Myers if he had assurance such action would be taken. He said, however, that he would have to be assured that expense money was forthcoming.

"I left the Winters case mainly because I knew there was no more expense money. It is true that Myers and I quarrelled over the murder affidavits. I am ready to return to the case at any time expense money is guaranteed, if the special prosecutor or assistant is appointed," he said.

Abel wired Mayor Watkins today asking to be kept posted and inquiring whether the mayor would guarantee him expense money.

Abel came here from Columbus, Ind., where he said he feared the delay in filing the murder affidavit against Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper had given those two opportunity to prepare a defense.

The state chemist denied that he had examined clothing from Newcastle for alleged blood spots. No chemist could be found who had seen the clothing.

DAWSON IMPROVED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, June 4.—Joe Dawson, injured in the Speedway race last Saturday and whose life has hung in the balance since then, appeared slightly improved today. This is the first improvement noted in his case.

An epidemic of what is pronounced by some physicians as smallpox has broken out in St. Paul. Dr. R. M. Thomas, Decatur county health commissioner, was called there yesterday. There are reported to be eighteen cases.

National Advertising

National advertising is only local advertising very much multiplied.

Goods are not sold to the Nation—But to the people in the Nation.

Each person is a unit and must be reached as such.

The greatest medium for reaching the people at the right moment is the daily newspaper.

Whatever other mediums advertisers may use—they must in the last analysis use the newspapers directly or indirectly.

Many wise National advertisers now use the daily newspapers in large volume, because through them they not only reach the people but also inspire confidence in the distributors of their goods.

PRAYER THAT SLANDERS DAD.

Telling Child to Petition to Make Father Better Held Reprehensible. Mothers, do not teach your children to pray, "God, make papa a better man." That is slandering your husband and is actionable. Wives, do not show your preference for your mothers over your husbands. That is treating your husband contemptuously. Husbands, do not remove your wives from rooms by physical force. That will enable your wife to get a legal separation. In granting Mrs. Tusi Bradley Barber a decree of separation from her husband and giving her the custody of her child Supreme Court Justice Mills, sitting at White Plains, N. Y., handed down a decision embodying the foregoing precepts.

NEW WIRELESS SIGNALS.

One of These Proposed, "T T T" is Warning Against Icebergs. John Burns, president of the London board of trade, has drawn up a merchants' shipping bill for safety at sea, which will be introduced in parliament shortly. It provides, among other things, for a new wireless danger signal, "T T T," which is to be repeated ten times at full power. This signal will warn vessels of imminent danger from icebergs, cyclones, etc. The "T T T" will not supersede the present "S O S." Other urgent signals are provided for, such as "You are standing into danger," "I want assistance," "Remain by," "I have encountered ice" and "Your lights are out."

"LANGLEY FOLLY" CAN REALLY FLY

Is Airship Whose Inventor Was Derided as a Darius Green.

BASIC POINTS UNTOUCHED.

Machine Hauled Out of Potomac River After Failure in 1903 Vindicates Langley, Who Died Broken Hearted. Now, Says Glenn Curtiss, His Name Antedates All Present Aviators.

"Langley's folly," the famous old tandem aeroplane that has been hanging in the Smithsonian institution in Washington for a decade, has been successfully flown by Glenn H. Curtiss over Lake Keuka, New York. This is the identical machine that was hauled out of the Potomac river after its second and last failure to fly on Dec. 8, 1903.

Professor Samuel P. Langley gave the best years of his life to this aeroplane and died in sorrow and disappointment. His friends said his heart was broken by the ridicule heaped upon him as a modern Darius Green. Congress at the last, accepting the public's attitude, refused money for further experiments, and Professor Langley apparently lost his courage as an inventor.

It is thought, says the New York Sun, that this successful flight of a machine that was completely built before Orville and Wilbur Wright made their first flights may bring about more litigation over the basic patents granted to the Wright brothers. The Langley machine was built for the government and was not patented. It has been contended that the Wrights obtained ideas from Dr. Langley's experiments.

Turned Over to Glenn H. Curtiss.

Glenn H. Curtiss had the machine sent to his factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., at the request of Secretary Charles D. Walcott of the Smithsonian institution and fitted it with pontoons. The planes were recovered, and the engine was tuned, but otherwise the machine was left in its original state.

A puffing wind and the erratic performance of the old motor cut the trials short after the first demonstration of the machine's ability to raise itself from the water.

Mr. Curtiss was asked after the flight whether it was made primarily to assuage the claim of the Wright brothers that they were the producers of the first successful heavier than air flying machine. He said:

"I acted under the direction of the Smithsonian institution, which has for some time desired to ascertain whether the Langley machine embodied principles making successful flight possible. The machine demonstrated that the principles embodied in its construction are correct.

"Although this flight proves that Dr. Langley antedated all present aviators, the Wrights have been awarded a court decision, which, so far as I see, stands. In making this flight I acted willingly, actuated by a veneration for the memory of Dr. Langley and his achievements."

Entirely Different, Says Wright.

Orville Wright says the performance of the Langley machine will have no bearing whatever on the Wrights' inventions. "There is nothing in common between the two machines," he says. "The Langley system of control is entirely different from that of the Wright machines. It is a very old system that enters into the Langley machine. That machine was tried out ten days before our successful flight in 1903 and failed, although it had four times the power of our machine."

The Public's Attitude

We, a newspaper in the city of Rushville which possesses such a natural beauty spot as the city park, would be remiss in our duty to the city if we did not occasionally call attention to the condition of the city park and the use to which it might be put if the proper public attitude were assumed.

A gift to the city of Rushville with the restriction that it be put to no other use, it stands almost a wilderness in an habitable place. It could be made a park that would be the envy of our sister cities and the delight of every man, woman and child in Rushville. But it is not.

It has served one purpose. It has furnished a home for the Rush county chautauqua for years, but it could be converted into a different place and could be of much greater value to the city. Agitation for public playgrounds at the park has been started again and again, but it has died down every time for some cause or other.

It is a case in point to cite the fact that at Seymour, which is a city in the same class as Rushville with practically the same population, the city council has arranged to beautify the city park and there is consideration of the erection of a shelter house that will accommodate two thousand people. Of course, there is need of no such a structure at the park here because the coliseum will serve the purpose, but it is well to note the progress that is being made elsewhere.

Furthermore a public playground for children to be established in the Seymour city park this summer. It will not be equipped very extensively this summer, but equipment will be added from time to time until a modern plant is collected. There's no one to deny that this would not be an excellent thing for Rushville if people will but take the proper attitude toward such a project.

Iowa Results

It is demonstrated every week that the primary is the poorest vehicle ever invented to get the expression of the voters in selecting the nominees of any political party. In Iowa this week less than thirty per cent of the vote in 1912 was cast in the primaries by all parties. This shows the utter futility of expecting the primary to do what the shouting demagogues claim for it. Much better would it be to employ the old convention system which gets an expression from a far greater number. We note in dispatches that "the feeling was so listless that many judges in the country precincts locked up the ballots without counting them and went to bed."

The Iowa primary further indicates that the Republican party is returning triumphantly, as it has done elsewhere when there has been an expression of the voters. Senator Cummins was renominated over another candidate by the Republicans by a majority ranging between forty-five and fifty thousand. Governor George B. Clark was renominated on the Republican ticket over two rivals by a majority of forty thousand votes. Indications are, although there have been no definite returns, that the Democratic vote fell far short of that of the Republicans and that the Progressives failed to scrape up seven thousand votes all told. And there were some contests in the Progressive camp, too.

POLITICAL POT
STARTS BOILING

Washington is Already Speculating on Presidential Possibilities For 1916 Race.

WILSON MAY RUN ONCE MORE

T. R. May Hove Opposition for Nomination on Bull Moose Ticket—Several Republicans Mentioned.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH.
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, June 4.—Washington is beginning to speculate seriously over 1916 Presidential possibilities. Incoming political bees from Indiana, New York, Idaho, Wisconsin, Iowa and Kansas are beginning to arouse the Capital which for weeks passed has been honeycombed with possibilities of war.

That President Wilson, his health permitting, will be urged by many Democratic party leaders to accept a second nomination is conceded. That Colonel Roosevelt, fresh from his conquest in South America, will get his hat in the ring, is considered a good bet. That former President Taft is out of all races for Republican party honors is admitted by his best friends.

Should these indications become facts Wilson will be pitted against the Progressive leader again. But in the next campaign, the colonel's friends privately hope, Roosevelt will be the Presidential choice of both Progressives and Republicans.

There is a pretty big hive of political bees, however, who are doing their utmost to eliminate both Wilson and Roosevelt. Some of them for instance—of course they are all loyal to their present chiefs—are supporters of Majority Leader Underwood, of Alabama, Speaker Clark, Chief Counsel Folk of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Governor Glynn of New York and Secretary of State Bryan. Such is the line-up of Democratic possibilities.

Then when it comes time for the Bull Moose to meet in National Convention, Gov. Johnson, of California, former Senator Beveridge, of Indiana and other Progressives probably will find their supporters lined up against T. R., maintaining that that party will stand a better show with the Colonel as "backer" than would T. R. as a candidate.

The race the Republicans will have to select from will have a wide range. Senators Borah, LaFollette, and Cummins are already being considered strong possibilities. Some Indiana Republicans think the nomination should go to former Vice President Fairbanks.

As the situation is today there will be little shifting in the strength of the possibilities until the elections this fall. Whichever party carries the greatest number of Congressional districts will in a measure have a fair claim to ascendancy. As far as individual candidates are concerned a great deal of Beveridge's future strength will depend upon the race he makes against Senator Shively for the Senatorial toga from Indiana.

Governor Glynn's future is in a measure wrapped up in the campaign in that state which will probably be the hottest contest since the 1912 presidential campaign. Underwood's real strength will develop probably after he reaches the Senate. Folk's prospects rest upon his prosecution of the New Haven railroad inquiry.

In the meantime the speculation which is just being heard in Washington will begin to grow as the various states send their reports down here. For Washington is the political filtering plant of the country. Booms do not get very far until they have made some headway in Washington and then returned to other parts of the nation.

John Butler, colored State Department messenger isn't attending the Niagara Falls mediation conference. This simple announcement might not appear significant, but diplomats of renown jokingly declared that today that any mediation proceedings minus the aged messenger wouldn't be quite complete.

Butler has been around the State Department since Lincoln's administration; he has attended many diplomatic conferences, including the position of serving tea and banquets to the Russo-Japanese more than 25 years ago.

Butler is so old that he has forgotten the exact tally.

"Deed, suh, I'm getting to old to go to mediations any more," he allowed today. "But I'll wish them well, and hope they settle this exican business all right."

Washington Officials Say Success of Mediation Will be Determined in 24 Hours.

SHIPMENT OF ARMS STOPPED

Opinion Expressed Constitutionalist Will Decline Offer Made by A. B. C. Diplomats

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 4.—Officials here expect definite results for success or failure of the mediation plan for Mexico within the next twenty-four hours. The storm center was the Constitutionalist junta here. Word was expected from Carranza.

Steps were quietly taken today to prevent further shipment of arms from America to Mexico.

Agents of General Carranza, revolutionary chieftain, were in direct telegraphic communication with the Constitutionalist leader after having forwarded to him the answer of the South American mediators to his message of protest carried to Niagara Falls last week.

Publication of the message of the mediators was withheld here until General Carranza has determined upon his reply.

Rafael Zubaran, Minister of the Interior in Carranza's Cabinet, and at the head of the Constitutionalist agency in Washington, would not discuss the nature of the mediators' proposals or the probable attitude of his chief.

Persons in touch with Constitutionalist agents, however, ventured the suggestion that the terms upon which the mediators proposed to receive the Constitutionalist into the peace negotiations would be declined.

The note from the mediators, addressed to Mr. Zubaran, reached Washington in a special delivery letter, in contrast to the sending of a special representative, Juan F. Urquidí, last week, to take the Zubaran note conveying General Carranza's communication.

RUSH COUNTY MAN
ON STATE TICKET

Ralph H. Lord of Mays, Son of Dr. J. L. Lord Nominated by Prohibitionists For Court Reporter.

MERCER BROWN ALSO NAMED

R. H. Lord of Mays, son of Dr. J. L. Lord, yesterday was nominated a candidate for clerk of the supreme and appellate courts at the state convention of the Prohibition party in Indianapolis yesterday. He was named without any opposition. His father, Dr. Lord, has been an enthusiastic Prohibitionist for years and has run on the county ticket. Mercer Brown of Spiceland was nominated for Attorney general over O. K. Donney by a vote of 186 to 84.

The convention made several changes in the platform from the original as prepared by the resolutions committee Tuesday night. The first draft included a plank in favor of requiring all voters to present a receipt for their poll taxes before being allowed to vote, but this was stricken out by the convention on motion of Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley of Liberty, who declared that a law of that kind would permit the liquor interests to pay the poll taxes of certain voters and the voters thus affected would be obliged to vote as the representatives of the liquor interests dictated.

The plank for the recall was not inserted by the resolutions committee, but the delegates changed it and inserted that plank.

NEXT MEETING TO BE HELD HERE

Delegates to Annual Meeting of Sunday Schools of Flatrock Baptist Association Pick Rushville.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Rev. S. G. Huntington of First Baptist Church Makes What is Considered Best Talk of Meeting.

Delegates and others from here attending the annual meeting of the Sunday schools of the Flatrock Baptist association at the Mt. Moriah church at Adams, Ind., have returned home with the news that the next annual convention of Sunday schools will be held in this city June 1, 1915.

The Rev. S. G. Huntington, pastor of the First Baptist church here, here, made a splendid address, what many considered the best one at the convention. He was also a member of the committee on statistics.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, J. O. Brison, Waldron; vice president, Lewis Boger, Shelbyville; secretary, Miss Mae Kennerly, Shelbyville; and treasurer, E. B. Spangh, Hope.

There were more than one hundred in attendance and the meeting was a very enthusiastic one. Responses to roll call found the following churches represented: Shelbyville Greensburg, Rushville, Hope, Lewis Creek, Mt. Moriah, Salem, Waldron and second Mt. Pleasant. The Rev. S. L. Essick, of Hope, had charge of the devotions and the president of the convention, J. O. Brison, presided at the meetings.

"How to Secure Study of the Lesson," was the subject of the Rev. Seldon L. Roberts' talk. He urged the teachers to make the lesson so interesting as to create in the pupil a desire to study it, and admonished them to not ask the pupil to do anything which they themselves do not actually do. Two recitations by Master Dale Pumphrey, of Hope, delighted the large audience. By request of the president, the Rev. Mr. Roberts gave another address on the "Standards of Sunday School Work."

The first thing on the program for the afternoon session was a talk by the Rev. O. A. Cook, pastor of the Second Mt. Pleasant church. His subject was "Personal Visitation." Miss M. Huckleberry of Muncie, followed the Rev. Mr. Spear and talked on the "Elementary Work in the Sunday Schools."

The evening session was the largest and most enthusiastic of the day, crowds from the surrounding community packing the church. Special song service was rendered by the orchestra, the Rev. Mr. Pavey of Waldron, being the leader.

UNITED STATES MUST HAVE SPEED

SAME HOLDS WITH BASEBALL

For This Reason Athletics Have not Shown Good This Season—Lipton has Chance.

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)
New York, June 4.—There have been a few times since several pseudo Indians dumped into Boston Harbor in 1776 that J. Bull has had the chance to cheer that was given him some days back at Sandwich where the British Lion leaped upon your Uncle Sam on the golf links and made a meal of every brassie wielder that crossed the Big Pond for the Stars and Stripes.

All of which is the prelude to reminding you that Great Britain, in the first contest of the annual series of international events has got the jump on the United States, and as it is in baseball, so it is in everything else, the man who jumps ahead of his rival in the first inning, or the first yard or the first round at the Crack of the gun, holds the "edge." Connie Mack's Athletics had a year of cheering last year and Uncle Sam's athletics in almost every branch of sports ditto. But this year is another thing, Mawruss.

The Athletics are having a lot harder time this year because of two things. They haven't shown their real class in the pitching department, or hadn't up to this writing. Again, they are battering against stiffer opposition this year than last. It's ditto again with Manager U. Sam. His golfers didn't play to form, and added to that, the Britishers showed far stronger than when the supposedly unbeatable Varden and Ray were trimmed, gathered and salted away by a mere boy, Quimet, a year ago.

Therefore it behooves every good American citizen to wait until he gets his right one for cheering. In the coming clashes betwixt English and American athletes—tennis, polo, yacht racing—the latter will do well to strive mightily for the first jump and the first whack if they want a chance to repeat.

Not meaning to be deary or gloomy but merely to prepare for any eventuality, the idea of need for speed in "The States" this year is emphasized by reports of the possibilities on the boat which Sir Tea. Lipton has built to trim the Yankees in the Cup contest. Extraordinary, surprising, startling, ugly and rangy are some of the adjectives dug from N. Webster's collection to describe the Lipton heat by the first American to inspect her. The rules of the race prohibited Designer Nicholson from building a scow or freak. Nicholson, adhering strictly to the letters of the prohibitive rules has laid down about the best little old combination freak-and-scow bat yet seen. The Sham rock is said to be neither a scow nor a freak. But it is said to combine the best features of each of these classes.

The vast spread of canvas is said to be especially startling. The huge rig has to have special fixings to make it stay aloft. By these special devices an extra spread of six feet at the base is obtained. Oh, yes; one other adjective was dug from the Webster collection in painting a picture of Sir Thomas's challenger for Americans. "Marvel," is the word. However, Americans have the satisfaction of knowing that the American boat will be named by sailors of the same nationality as Captain James Lawrence, John Paul Jones, and George Dewey. Which is some consolation.

It will be speed and cleverness against stamina and punch when George Carpentier meets Gunboat Smith in London the last week in June. Not but that dear Carpentier hasn't a punch, and not that our Gunboat isn't clever, but merely that the Frenchman looks better as to cleverness and that the American is believed to excel in the ability to hit. One thing is certain. If both men extend themselves instead of tangoing, the spectators who take in the international battle at Burge's Club should see a whang, slam, bang-up scrap. And according to dope, Americans in London who say they will bet their shoes on Gunboat, ought to make a killing. Of all the fighters whom America has sent ahead for England to give the once over, Smith probably will make less impression in appearance than any who have gone before. But Smith is deceptive when it comes to shape and size. And if he gets through Carpentier's defense with a sleep-wallop, the Americans won't be the only ones who'll cheer. Britons remember what the sensational French youth has done to their own once pride and hope Lombardier Wells. Anyone who talks English and beats Carpentier can take lunch with the King. That's the way these bally Britishers feel about it.

The Guner, be it remembered not only carries a kick in either mitt, but he can take a lot of punishment. Be it remembered also what Tommy Murphy once said of Smith whom the latter not wanting to hurt Tommy, hit him on top of his head, "where the didn't hurt my head but he drove my body down into my feet and nearly broke the arches of my instep."

A punch like the one handed to Murphy delivered amidst to carpenter would make the Frenchman forget all the cleverness he ever had.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM.

The fire department was called to box No. 43, corner of Morgan and Seventh streets, last evening about six o'clock but it proved a false alarm. A fire in an alley and the reflection against a house lead someone to believe there was a fire and the alarm was sounded.

A PLEASING FROCK OF WHITE BANDED AND BOWED IN BLACK SATIN

Black and white combinations are still in the lead although, as the season advances, there is a tendency toward brighter hues as a sort of reaction from sombre skies and chilly days. Among the new colors are various shades of green. Green is undoubtedly one of the most becoming shades a woman can wear if just the right tone is chosen; it is said that a French woman considers a green frock quite as indispensable to her wardrobe as a black one.

An attractive taffetas frock for afternoon is shown in 8419; a soft green, between a leaf and a lettuce shade is the color, relieved by a bit of black velvet ribbon at the throat and a bit on the flounce and sleeves. For size 36, this design requires 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8419) and 3 1/4 yards of the same width for the skirt (8420).

The little dress shown in No. 8412, is a suspender design of dark blue serge worn over a blouse of white muslin. For a child of eight, 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material is needed. Black and white taffetas is happily combined in this costume with black satin; the sheen of the satin offers a pleasing relief to the dull finish of the taffetas. The banding on the tunic comes up in the back and finishes in a broad Japanese bow. This frock may be copied in size 36, with 6 yards of 36-inch material.

INDIANA WILL GET GOOD START

Will be Ahead of Other States in Case Vocational Educational Bill is Passed.

THE COMMISSION RECOMMENDS

Is in Good Position to Take Proposed Appropriations—Other Legislation Necessary

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, June 4.—Indiana, above all other states, will get a running start towards federal aid in vocational education in case the bill just drafted by the federal board for vocational education becomes a law. The advantage held by Indiana, it is said, may largely be attributed to the fact that John A. Lapp, Indiana's representative in the Federal board, drew up both the federal bill and the Indiana law concerning vocational education. The same ideas prevail in both. Whereas Indiana is ready immediately to accept federal aid, most other states must first go through the legislative steps that Indiana has been taking in the past few years.

The United Press has obtained from Mr. Lapp, who is director of the Indiana bureau of legislative information, an instructive statement, explaining just what the new vocational education bill would mean to Indiana, should it become a law.

BY JOHN A. LAPP
(Written for United Press.)

The commission on vocational education has decided to recommend that federal grants be made to aid the states in giving vocational education in agriculture, in trades and industries and in the training of teachers for these subjects and of home economics.

Under the terms of the proposal which it is hoped congress will enact into law, Indiana would receive for 1916, the sum of $14,700 for the training of teachers, $13,400 for trade and industrial education and $15,800 for agricultural education, or a total of $43,900 if all of the grants are used. This amount increases each year for a number of years and when the maximum is reached in 1924 the State will receive each year $29,400 for the training of teachers and vocational subjects, $80,400 for industrial education and $94,800 for agricultural education, or a total of $204,600.

Indiana is in a particularly fort-

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also. "I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

unate position to take advantage of these appropriations. The first step, if the bill should be enacted, would be for the legislature formally to accept the provisions of the act and designate a board to have charge of the supervision of the education and the disbursement of the money, and also designate the state treasurer as custodian of the funds. In Indiana this board should be the state board of education. The board would then formulate a plan for the expenditure of the money, which would be submitted to the federal board for vocational education, composed of the post-master-general, the secretary of the interior, the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce and the secretary of labor. If the plan is in accord with the provisions of the act, the money would be annually allotted to Indiana and placed in the hands of the state treasurer for distribution to approved schools, on the requisition of the state board. The state board would supervise the education and a report concerning it to the federal board.

The Indiana vocational education law, passed in 1913, provides for the same kinds of education which are the subjects of grants under the proposed bill. The funds given by the federal government will therefore supplement the funds which are given by the state for the same purpose. Indiana provides for aid to agricultural education, all-day industrial schools, part time industrial schools and evening industrial schools. The standards which the state board is setting up in Indiana for such schools are sufficiently high to receive the additional grants from the federal government without question. With these funds, plus the state aid and the local contributions for vocational education, Indiana should move more rapidly toward the development of a complete scheme of vocational education, which means the education of all the people regardless of whether they work with their heads or with their hands.

One particular feature of the proposal of interest to Indiana is that at least one-third of the fund for industrial education must be used for part time schools for young workers, that is, schools which give a few hours instruction per day or per week to young persons already employed. This is a form of education which badly needs development because so many of our young people go to work before they receive sufficient education for their life work or for civic intelligence. This fund will be a special incentive for the authorities of Indiana schools to set up part time education.

The training of vocational teachers is admittedly one of the most pressing problems in Indiana as well as in other states. The commission thought it wise therefore, to give a large sum for the training of teachers the first year, in order that steps could be taken at once to meet the needs. Under the provisions for training teachers the state board would have the entire control of such training and could apportion the fund which the state receives to any institution or to any schools which can give the training needed. It is possible that the fund might be used in one of the state institutions for the training of certain kinds of teachers or it might be used in connection with some industrial schools in a city to develop strictly trade teachers. The state board will use this according to the needs for particular kinds of teachers. If federal aid should be granted under the terms of the proposed bill the state should continue to be one of the leaders in vocational education.

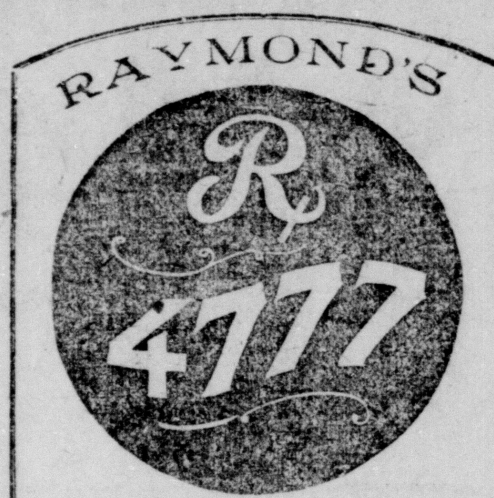

The need for such education is apparent on every hand, everybody believes in it and I have entire faith that the congress of the United States will recognize the imperative duty to lend its support to a matter of such supreme importance to the national progress and welfare.

William Poe, Resident Here Two
Weeks, Taken on Charge From Shelbyville.

RETURNED TO HIS OLD HOME

William Poe, a resident of this city for the past two weeks, was arrested last night on information received from the Shelbyville police department. He is charged with desertion and non-support by his wife in Shelbyville. The charge was filed in a justice of peace court there and the local officers were asked to make the arrest. Mrs. Poe alleged that her husband left two weeks ago and since that time has offered to support her. He was arrested at the home of his uncle, Henry Poe in West Ninth street.

Assistant chief of Police Morris of Shelbyville came here this afternoon and took Poe to Shelbyville where he will be given a hearing.

A REPRESENTATIVE'S PLEA

Esch of Wisconsin Urges Interstate
Commerce Commission be Given
Power Over Railroad Finances.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 4.—A final vote on the entire administration anti-trust program is scheduled in the house tomorrow. Debate on a third of the bills relating to railroads, stocks and bonds was to close tonight.

Opening the debate today on the Rayburn railroad securities bill Representative Esch of Wisconsin cited the present investigation of the New Haven railroad as a reason why the interstate commerce commission should be given power over railroad finances.

"Within the last year," he said, "the country has been aroused and innocent investors alarmed over the disclosure of the looting by men high in the financial world of such promising roads as the Frisco, the Rock Island, Pere Marquette, Boston and Maine and the New Haven. With publicity of stock and bonds and for which their proceeds are to be spent required by the pending bill, such financial jugglery would not be possible."

Carranza was busy until after midnight conferring over a leased wire with his representative at Washington. Nothing regarding the conference was made public.

When Carranza reaches Saltillo he is expected to announce the members of his cabinet and the personnel of the entire government.

Farmers living near New Salem who were in Rushville today reported that a heavy rain fell in the southern part of the county this morning. That's more than can be said for Rushville or the northern part of the county which is backed for the lack of moisture.

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Appropriate Habiliment FOR SUMMER

It's worthy, interesting, charming, our showing of beautiful waists and blouses—an exploitation of 1914 styles too pleasing to miss. In matters of taste first impressions are best. One "learns to like" things for style's sake, sometimes, but what one likes at sight usually proves a lasting satisfaction. Our blouses this season are winning high regard not only for semi-dress, but for afternoon or evening wear. To be appropriately and neatly clad, choose liberally from our large assortment of dainty and sheer wash waists or the more ornate silk, lace or chiffon blouses. As a soloist utterly fails without a good accompanist, so does a beautiful blouse fail to show its worth unless supplemented by a neatly tailored skirt. The pre-shrunk wash skirts, made in the Woolltex factory are receiving the attention that they merit. There are many models, and a wide range of materials and prices. Don't neglect seeing them at your first opportunity.

Auto Accessories

You might as well be without a spark plug, as to be without a suitable coat for protecting your clothes when auto driving. We are showing several styles, and cannot fail to interest you. A splendid assortment, too of auto hats, caps, helmets, veils and scarfs. Several of the tourists on their way through to the Speedway last week thought so well of our offering that they purchased the complete outfit. We can please you as well.

UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE

Rushville, Indiana, Thursday Evening, June 4, 1914.

Single Copies, 2 Cents.

WILL RECEIVE BIDS TONIGHT

City Council Will Award Contract For
Oiling Streets if Price is Not
Exorbitant.

AS WAS THE CASE LAST YEAR

According to Contracts in Other
Cities, Price Here Should be
Less Than 6 Cents.

Tonight is the time set by the city council for the receiving of bids for oiling the streets of Rushville. The streets are very dusty and the residents hope that the work will soon start. There is a chance, of course, that the council will reject all bids and give the people the right to do their own oiling, but because of the late start the people are in the hopes that the council will award the contract.

The bids to be received by the council must not be too high as the council will not stand for an exorbitant price. This was the cause last year of the council rejecting all bids. In fact last year only two bids were received and they were so near alike that the council refused to accept either because they were higher than the council thought they should be paid.

In the plans this year the council changed the quantity of oil to be applied to the square yard and the cost, because of this, should not be as great as last year, if for no other reason. Members of the council are determined that the price must be right before the contract is awarded. It will be remembered that last year the council advertised for bids and then because the price was too high rejected all bids. It was late in the season and many thought that the council should have gone ahead, but the cost was too great. Under the law the oiling is done as a public improvement and taxed to the property owners.

The oiling here should cost less than six cents a running foot, according to the contract price in other cities. In Lafayette, Ind., the successful bid for the oiling of thirty-foot streets was six cents a running foot and under their plans and specifications as compared with those of Rushville the price should be less than that here.

In Lafayette the contractor is compelled to do many things that the contractor will not have to do here. The contractor there was compelled to clean and remove all dust from the roadway by sweeping. The plans called for the sweeping to be done between the hours of eleven o'clock p. m. and six o'clock a. m. After the application of the oil, under these plans, a thin covering of sharp sand must be spread over the surface to absorb any surplus oil. This is an additional cost and is not provided for in the Rushville plans and specifications. One cubic yard of the sand is expected to cover from 150 to 175 square yards of surface.

It will be seen that under the Lafayette plans the cost would necessarily be greater than it should be here and for this reason the cost should be under six cents a running foot. The oil used in Lafayette at the time the contract was let cost four and one-half cents a gallon. This was about one month ago and since then has fallen off in price. With all these things taken into consideration it is hard to see how the people of the city can be held up on the price of street oiling by the contractors.

Norways had an unusually heavy herring catch. It netted handsome returns to the fishermen.

JURY OUT TEN MINUTES

And Returned Verdict For Defendants in Contract Suit.

The jury in the case of George F. Roots against James and Mary Sage, on a contract, demanding $175, returned a verdict for the defendants late yesterday afternoon. The jury was out only about ten minutes and took only one ballot to reach a decision. The case was based on a board bill that the plaintiff alleged was due him. He alleged that he had a contract for four months' board and that it had never been fulfilled.

RUNAWAY HORSE TEARS UP BUGGY

Animal Belonging to Bert Hobbs Terrifies People in Downtown District Late at Night.

SCATTERS WHEELS IN STREET

A practically new buggy belonging to Bert Hobbs, living on the Alvan Moor farm, northeast of the city, was destroyed last night in a thrilling runaway. The horse started from the Smalley livery barn in South Perkins street and ran west in First street. In attempting to make the turn into Main street one of the wheels was lost, but the horse kept on going. It turned east in Second street and also ran into the city sprinkler at the corner of Second and Perkins street. The horse dashed up on the lawn at the home of Mrs. A. B. Flynn and two more wheels were left there.

This did not stop the animal and he continued in his mad flight, finally leaving the badly battered rig in front of Dr. Frank Green's residence in North Perkins street. The runaway occurred about ten-thirty o'clock last night and several people on the streets at the time had close calls from being run over.

DEATH TODAY IS RATHER SUDDEN

Mrs. Wayne Wellman, Who Has Been Sick With Bright's Disease, Was Not Believed Critical.

HAS STROKE OF APOPLEXY

Mrs. Dora Wellman, 51 years old, wife of Wayne Wellman, died this afternoon shortly before two o'clock at her home southeast of the city. Mrs. Wellman had been in ill health for a long time suffering from Bright's disease, but her death was rather sudden and came as a shock to her many friends. At eleven o'clock this morning Mrs. Wellman suffered a stroke of apoplexy and this hastened her death. While she has been in a serious condition the past few days, her death was not expected.

She is survived by her husband and father, Henry Starke. She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Stiers of Newcastle, Mrs. Edward Logan and Mrs. Edward Holman, and one brother, John Starke. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

The ladies of the Orange Christian church will give a festival in the school auditorium in Orange Saturday night.

TO NAME COUNTY TICKET SATURDAY

Democrats Will Hold Convention at Coliseum to Pick Candidates For Several Offices.

MANY AFTER NOMINATION

Hottest Race Appears to be Between Cary Jackson and O. J. Cook.—Township Meeting Places.

The Democrats of Rush county will hold their county nominating convention Saturday afternoon in the coliseum. The arrangements for the convention are rapidly being completed and County Chairman Samuel L. Trabue is looking for a record breaking crowd. The delegates will meet in the morning by townships and select their members to the various committees.

Chairman Trabue announced today that the permanent officers of the convention would be selected and recommended by the rules and order committee and that they would not be named before hand as is commonly done by conventions. There will be 268 delegates in the convention, making 135 votes necessary for choice.

Several contests are promised at the convention that should prove quite interesting. Judge John D. Megee and Prosecutor Donald Smith have no opposition for the nominations and none is expected to develop. Both were appointed to their respective offices by Governor Ralston when Rush county was placed in a separate judicial district.

A nice fight is expected for the nomination of treasurer. There are two candidates, Cary Jackson of this city and Oliver J. Cook of Richland township. It is generally conceded that Mr. Jackson will be given the nomination although there is some opposition and Mr. Cook may give him a close race. Mr. Cook was the first to announce and was followed by Mr. Jackson. Mr. Jackson has served the Democratic party well, being elected to the legislature and then as joint-senator from the counties of Rush, Fayette and Hancock. He recently resigned the joint-senatorship to make the race for county treasurer. Mr. Cook is equally as well known and should make a good race for the nomination.

There are also two candidates for county recorder they are Don M. Casady of this city and Thomas Gray of Ripley township. Mr. Casady is a young business man here and both candidates have been working hard. Mr. Casady ran for city clerk on the Democrat ticket last fall.

The only candidate for representative is Bert Benner, cashier of the Mays bank. Mr. Benner only announced his candidacy last night. Voorhees Cavitt has no opposition for sheriff and will receive the nomination for a second term.

There are two candidates for surveyor, Will Dill and Adolphus Cameron. Adolphus Cameron has served two terms and it is more than likely that Mr. Dill will receive the nomination. James Tarplee is the only candidate for county assessor.

There are three candidates for commissioner of the middle district. They are Henry Beckner of Jackson township, Sabert Offutt of Arlington and Elijah Billings. So far only one candidate has announced for commissioner of the northern district. The candidate is Bert Cohee.

The committee appointed to decorate the coliseum is composed of Voorhees Cavitt, Joe Dickman and Stanton McBride. The resolutions committee will meet in the law office of J. T. Arbuckle. The committee on credentials

AUTOMOBILES START FRIDAY

Flying Squadrons Advertising Big Wednesday Will Cover the Entire County Tomorrow.

PLAN TO GET AN EARLY START

Lesson Which Big Wednesday Teaches is One Worthy of Emulation, it is Declared.

Flying squadrons of automobiles to cover the entire county advertising Big Wednesday, the first one of the season which will be held next week, will leave Rushville early tomorrow morning. It was thought probable that one or two machines might make a trip this afternoon. Fifteen automobiles had been promised and more are expected to make the trip.

In a statement issued from Chamber of Commerce headquarters today, the value of Big Wednesday to the community was shown. The statement says:

When a large number of merchants in a town where rivalry is keen can get together on a proposition like Big Wednesday, and cast aside prejudices for the good of all, it is time to "sit up and take notice." Remember, too, that these same progressive business men are out to help the other men as well, and are willing to throw trade to the men who do not realize the advantage of such big days. There is surely a subtle spirit moving in our midst, and business men are forgetting their selfish interests in working for the common good. They realize that what is good for all alike benefits each one, and are working together to make Rush county patrons proud of this city as the best representative county seat in this state.

Cities exist for business purposes. No one can do without our city business houses. If they don't trade in Rushville, they do somewhere else. They have to buy and sell somewhere. If they live in Rush county and trade out of it, there must be a reason. The Rushville merchants want to seek out these persons and try to remove the objections. They cannot do it by jealousy, nor by too independent an attitude, nor by storming at people in print. Some men have tried all three, perhaps. In a progressive age, the business men realize this and the get-together movement is well exemplified in such an enterprise as Big Wednesday.

This movement is not for the good of Rushville alone. The out-of-town people will learn that Rushville is the natural center of Rush county trade, and that they will benefit also by using this most convenient center to do business in. They must be willing to try it a while, to give the Rushville business men a chance to prove it.

Mr. Farmer, if you have a grouch, bring it to town on Big Wednesday, and leave it here. If Rushville is to stay better than the surrounding towns, you must help us keep it so.

WINTERS TRIAL SET TODAY FOR JULY 10

Joint Affidavit in Which Doctor, Wife and Cooper Are Charged With Conspiracy to be Heard.

PROBE WILL BE CONTINUED

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., June 4.—Judge Jackson today set the trial of Dr. W. A. Winters, Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper, charged jointly in an indictment by Detective R. H. Abel with conspiring to murder and burn the body of Catherine Winters, for Friday, July 10 in the circuit court. All three are at liberty on $1,000 bonds. They were first arrested and their bonds placed at $5,000, but when the second charge was made, their bonds were reduced.

The prosecutor was in court and no effort was made to quash the affidavit against the three defendants. Alee Gorman, former chief of police of Richmond, Ind., was in the city today in conference with Mayor Watkins.

Chester Dewitt, county attorney, has also identified himself with the case and it is understood will assist Prosecutor Myers. The investigations will continue, according to statements made by the officials, and further developments may be made known.

WINTERS SAYS HE'S BIT OF DETECTIVE

Accused Newcastle Physician, in Columbus Today, Declares he is Looking up Detective Abel.

CALLS HIM A "FOURFLUSHER"

(By United Press.)

Columbus, Ind., June 4.—Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters came to Columbus today on the heels of detective Abel. Dr. Winters is very bitter against Abel and calls him a "four-flusher." The doctor said:

"Abel came to me and wanted me to join with him in convicting W. R. Cooper who is an innocent man. I refused to do anything with the matter he had no evidence. Then he turned on me and my wife and filed charges of murder against us."

Dr. Winters says he is a bit of a detective himself and has been collecting evidence against Abel to be used later.

ABEL READY TO RESUME WORK

EXPENSE MONEY A QUESTION

Fears Delay Will Give Mrs. Winters and Cooper Chance to Make Defense-Chemists' Denial

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—Robert H. Abel, the detective who worked on the Winters case reappeared here today. He told the United Press that he would return to Newcastle and give Judge Jackson enough of his evidence to warrant the appointment of a prosecutor to assist Prosecutor Myers if he had assurance such action would be taken. He said, however, that he would have to be assured that expense money was forthcoming.

"I left the Winters case mainly because I knew there was no more expense money. It is true that Myers and I quarrelled over the murder affidavits. I am ready to return to the case at any time expense money is guaranteed, if the special prosecutor or assistant is appointed," he said.

Abel wired Mayor Watkins today asking to be kept posted and inquiring whether the mayor would guarantee him expense money.

Abel came here from Columbus, Ind., where he said he feared the delay in filing the murder affidavit against Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper had given those two opportunity to prepare a defense.

The state chemist denied that he had examined clothing from Newcastle for alleged blood spots. No chemist could be found who had seen the clothing.

JOE IMPROVED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, June 4.—Joe Dawson, injured in the Speedway race last Saturday and whose life has hung in the balance since then, appeared slightly improved today. This is the first improvement noted in his case.

An epidemic of what is pronounced by some physicians as smallpox has broken out in St. Paul. Dr. R. M. Thomas, Decatur county health commissioner, was called there yesterday. There are reported to be eighteen cases.

National Advertising

National advertising is only local advertising multiplied.

Goods are not sold to the Nation—But to the people in the Nation.

Each person is a unit and must be reached as such.

The greatest medium for reaching the people at the right moment is the daily newspaper.

Whatever other mediums advertisers may use—they must in the last analysis use the newspapers directly or indirectly.

Many wise National advertisers now use the daily newspapers in large volume, because through them they not only reach the people but also inspire confidence in the distributors of their goods.

PRAYER THAT SLANDERS DAD.

Telling Child to Petition to Make Father Better Held Reprehensible.

Mothers, do not teach your children to pray, "God, make papa a better man." That is slandering your husband and is actionable.

Wives, do not show your preference for your mothers over your husbands. That is treating your husband contemptuously.

Husbands, do not remove your wives from rooms by physical force. That will enable your wife to get a legal separation.

In granting Mrs. Post Bradley Barber a decree of separation from her husband and giving her the custody of her child Supreme Court Justice Mills, sitting at White Plains, N. Y., handed down a decision embodying the foregoing precepts.

NEW WIRELESS SIGNALS.

One of Those Proposed, "T T T" is Warning Against Icebergs.

John Burns, president of the London board of trade, has drawn up a merchants' shipping bill for safety at sea, which will be introduced in parliament shortly. It provides, among other things, for a new wireless danger signal, "T T T," which is to be repeated ten times at full power.

This signal will warn vessels of imminent danger from icebergs, cyclones, etc. The "T T T" will not supersede the present "S O S." Other urgent signals are provided for, such as "You are standing into danger," "I want assistance," "Remain by," "I have encountered ice" and "Your lights are out."

"LANGLEY FOLLY" CAN REALLY FLY

Is Airship Whose Inventor Was Corbided as a Darius Green.

BASIC POINTS UNTOUCHED.

Machine Hauled Out of Potomac River After Failure in 1903 Vindicates Langley, Who Died Broken Hearted. Now, Says Glenn Curtiss, His Name Antedates All Present Aviators.

"Langley's folly," the famous old tandem aeroplane that has been hanging in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington for a decade, has been successfully flown by Glenn H. Curtiss over Lake Kouka, New York. This is the identical machine that was hauled out of the Potomac river after its second and last failure to fly on Dec. 8, 1903.

Professor Samuel P. Langley gave the best years of his life to this aeroplane and died in sorrow and disappointment. His friends said his heart was broken by the ridicule heaped upon him as a modern Darius Green. Congress at the last, accepting the public's attitude, refused money for further experiments, and Professor Langley apparently lost his courage as an inventor.

It is thought, says the New York Sun, that this successful flight of a machine that was completely built before Orville and Wilbur Wright made their first flights may bring about more litigation over the basic patents granted to the Wright brothers. The Langley machine was built for the government and was not patented. It has been contended that the Wrights obtained ideas from Dr. Langley's experiments.

Turned Over to Glenn H. Curtiss. Glenn H. Curtiss had the machine sent to his factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., at the request of Secretary Charles D. Walcott of the Smithsonian Institution and fitted it with propellers. The planes were recovered, and the engine was tuned, but otherwise the machine was left in its original state.

A puff wind and the erratic performance of the old motor cut the trials short after the first demonstration of the machine's ability to raise itself from the water.

Mr. Curtiss was asked after the flight whether it was made primarily to establish the claim of the Wright brothers that they were the producers of the first successful heavier than air flying machine. He said:

"Directed under the direction of the Smithsonian Institution, which has for some time desired to ascertain whether the Langley machine embodied principles making successful flight possible. The machine demonstrated that the principles embodied in its construction are correct.

"Although this flight proves that Dr. Langley anticipated all present aviators, the Wrights have been awarded a court decision, which, so far as I see, stands. In making this flight I acted willingly, actuated by a veneration for the memory of Dr. Langley and his achievements."

Entirely Different, Says Wright. Orville Wright says the performance of the Langley machine will have no bearing whatever on the Wrights' inventions. "There is nothing in common between the two machines," he says. "The Langley system of control is entirely different from that of the Wright machines. It is a very old system that enters into the Langley machine. That machine was tried out ten days before our successful flight in 1903 and failed, although it had four times the power of our machine."

The Public's Attitude

We, a newspaper in the city of Rushville which possesses such a natural beauty spot as the city park, would be remiss in our duty to the city if we did not occasionally call attention to the condition of the city park and the use to which it might be put if the proper public attitude were assumed.

A gift to the city of Rushville with the restriction that it be put to no other use, it stands almost a wilderness in an habitable place. It could be made a park that would be the envy of our sister cities and the delight of every man, woman and child in Rushville. But it is not.

It has served one purpose. It has furnished a home for the Rush county chautauqua for years, but it could be converted into a different place and could be of much greater value to the city. Agitation for public playgrounds at the park has been started again and again, but it has died down every time for some cause or other.

It is a case in point to cite the fact that at Seymour, which is a city in the same class as Rushville with practically the same population, the city council has arranged to beautify the city park and there is consideration of the erection of a shelter house that will accommodate two thousand people. Of course, there is need of such a structure at the park here because the coliseum will serve the purpose, but it is well to note the progress that is being made elsewhere.

Furthermore a public playground for children to be established in the Seymour city park this summer. It will not be equipped very extensively yet, but the equipment will be added from time to time until a modern plant is collected. There is no one to say that this would not be an excellent thing for Rushville if people will but take the proper attitude toward such a project.

Iowa Results

It is demonstrated every week that the primary is the poorest vehicle ever invented to get the expression of the voters in selecting the nominees of any political party. In Iowa this week less than thirty per cent of the vote in 1912 was cast in the primary as in all parties. This shows the utter futility of expending the primary to do what the shouting demagogues claim for it. Much better would it be to employ the old convention system which gets an expression from a far greater number. We note in dispatches that the feeling was so hot that many judges in the county precincts locked up the ballots without counting them and went to bed.

The Iowa primary further indicates that the Republican party is returning triumphantly, as it has done elsewhere when there has been an expression of the voters. Senator Cummings was re-nominated over another candidate by the Republicans by a majority ranging between forty-five and fifty thousand. Governor George B. Clark was re-nominated on the Republican ticket over two rivals by a majority of forty thousand votes. Indications are, although there have been no definite returns, that the Democratic vote fell far short of that of the Republicans and that the Progressives failed to scrape up seven thousand votes all told. And there were some contests in the Progressive camp too.

POLITICAL POT
STARTS BOILING

Washington is Already Speculating on Presidential Possibilities
For 1916 Race.

WILSON MAY RUN ONCE MORE

T. R. May Have Opposition for Nomination on Bull Moose Ticket—
Several Republicans Mentioned.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH.
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, June 4.—Washington is beginning to speculate seriously over 1916 Presidential possibilities. Incoming political bees from Indiana, New York, Idaho, Wisconsin, Iowa and Kansas are beginning to arouse the Capital which for weeks passed has been honeycombed with possibilities of war.

That President Wilson, his health permitting, will be urged by many Democratic party leaders to accept a second nomination is conceded. That Colonel Roosevelt, fresh from his conquest in South America, will get his hat in the ring, is considered a good bet. That former President Taft is out of all races for Republican party honors is admitted by his best friends.

Should these indications become facts Wilson will be pitted against the Progressive leader again. But in the next campaign, the colonel's friends privately hope, Roosevelt will be the Presidential choice of both Progressives and Republicans.

There is a pretty big hive of political bees, however, who are doing their utmost to eliminate both Wilson and Roosevelt. Some of them for instance—of course they are all loyal to their present chiefs—are supporters of Majority Leader Underwood, of Alabama, Speaker Clark, Chief Counsel Folk of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Governor Glynn of New York and Secretary of State Bryan. Such is the line-up of Democratic possibilities.

Then when it comes time for the Bull Moose to meet in National Convention, Gov. Johnson, of California, former Senator Beveridge, of Indiana and other Progressives probably will find their supporters lined up against T. R. maintaining that that party will stand a better show with the Colonel as "backer" than would T. R. as a candidate.

The race the Republicans will have to select from will have a wide range. Senators Borah, La Follette, and Cummins are already being considered strong possibilities. Some Indiana Republicans think the nomination should go to former Vice President Fairbanks.

As the situation is today there will be little shifting in the strength of the possibilities until the elections this fall. Whichever party carries the greatest number of Congressional districts will in a measure have a fair claim to ascendancy. As far as individual candidates are concerned the home mission committee of the Whitewater Presbytery of the Presbyterian church met here this week at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. J. D. Mencham, pastor of the church, is the chairman of the committee. All members of the committee were present with the exception of the pastor of the Knightstown church. It was announced that all problems had been cleared by the committee with one exception. The committee is looking for a supply for the Brookville and Cambridge City charges. These two churches will be on a circuit.

Agents of General Carranza, revolutionary chieftain, were in direct telegraphic communication with the Constitutional leader after having forwarded to him the answer of the South American mediators to his message of protest carried to Niagara Falls last week.

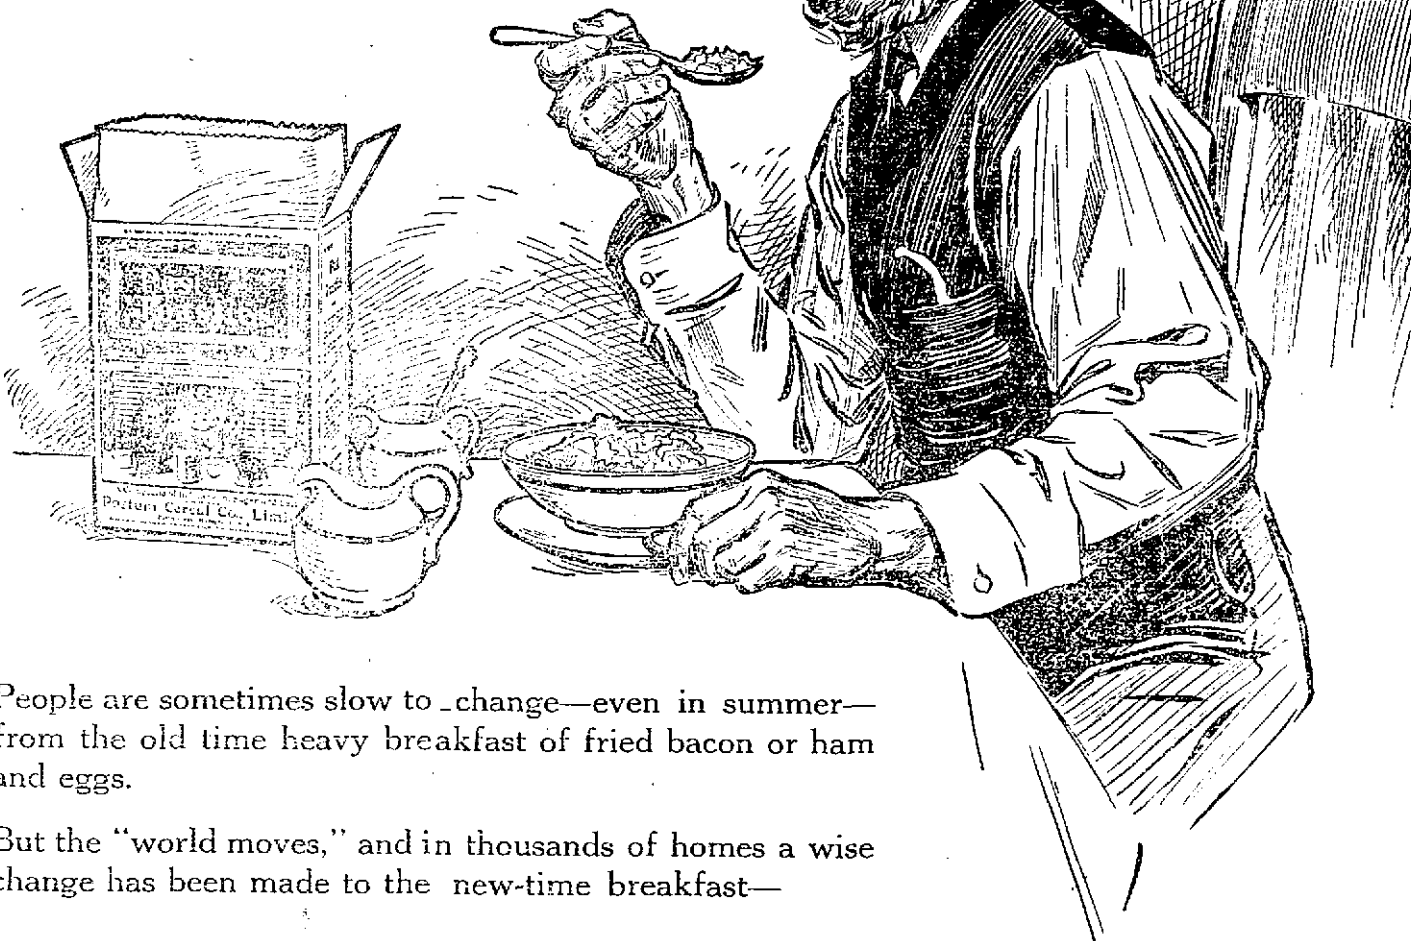

Publication of the message of the mediators was withheld here until General Carranza has determined upon his reply. Rafael Zubaran, Minister of the Interior in Carranza's Cabinet, and at the head of the Constitutional agency in Washington, would not discuss the nature of the mediators' proposals or the probable attitude of his chief. Washington, June 4.—Officials here expect definite results for success or failure of the mediation plan for Mexico within the next twenty-four hours. The storm center was the Constitutional junta here. Word was expected from Carranza.

Steps were quickly taken today to prevent further shipment of arms from America to Mexico.

Agents of General Carranza, revolutionary chieftain, were in direct telegraphic communication with the Constitutional leader after having forwarded to him the answer of the South American mediators to his message of protest carried to Niagara Falls last week.

Publication of the message of the mediators was withheld here until General Carranza has determined upon his reply.

Rafael Zubaran, Minister of the Interior in Carranza's Cabinet, and at the head of the Constitutional agency in Washington, would not discuss the nature of the mediators' proposals or the probable attitude of his chief.

Persons in touch with Constitutional agents, however, ventured the suggestion that the terms upon which the mediators proposed to receive the Constitutionalists into the peace negotiations would be declined.

The note from the mediators, addressed to Mr. Zubaran, reached Washington in a special delivery letter, in contrast to the sending of a special representative, Juan F. Ugualdi, last week, to take the Zubaran note conveying General Carranza's communication.

ON STATE TICKET

Ralph H. Lord of Mays, Son of Dr.
J. L. Lord Nominated by Prohibitionists For Court Reporter.

MERCER BROWN ALSO NAMED

R. H. Lord of Mays, son of Dr. J. L. Lord, yesterday was nominated a candidate for clerk of the supreme and appellate courts at the state convention of the Prohibition party in Indianapolis yesterday. He was named without any opposition. His father, Dr. Lord, has been an enthusiastic Prohibitionist for years and has run on the county ticket. Mercer Brown of Spiceland was nominated for Attorney general over O. K. Donney by a vote of 186 to 84.

The convention made several changes in the platform from the original as prepared by the resolutions committee Tuesday night. The first draft included a plank in favor of requiring all voters to present a receipt for their poll taxes before being allowed to vote, but this was stricken out by the convention on motion of Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley of Liberty, who declared that a law of that kind would permit the liquor interests to pay the poll taxes of certain voters and the voters thus affected would be obliged to vote as the representatives of the liquor interests dictated.

The plank for the recall was not inserted by the resolutions committee, but the delegates changed it and inserted that plank.

UNITED STATES MUST HAVE SPEED

SAME HOLDS WITH BASEBALL

For This Reason Athletics Have not Shown Good This Season—Lipton has Chance.

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)
New York, June 4.—There have been a few times since several splendid Indians dived into Boston Harbor in 1776 that J. Bull has had the chance to cheer that was given him some days back at Sandwich where the British Lion leaped upon your Uncle Sam on the golf links and made a meal of every brassie wielder that crossed the Big Pond for the Stars and Stripes.

All of which is the prelude to reminding you that Great Britain, in the first contest of the annual series of international events has got the jump on the United States, and as it is in baseball, so it is in everything else, the man who jumps ahead of his rival in the first inning, or the first yard or the first round at the Crack of the gun, holds the "edge." Connie Mack's Athletics had a year of cheering last year and Uncle Sam's athletics in almost every branch of sports ditto. But this year is another thing, Mawrass.

The Athletics are having a lot harder time this year because of two things. They haven't shown their real class in the pitching department, or hadn't up to this writing. Again, they are battling against stiffer opposition this year than last. It's ditto again with Manager U. Sam. His codgers didn't play to form, and added to that, the Britishers showed far stronger than when the supposedly unbeatable Varden and Day were trimmed, gathered and salted away by a mere boy, Quinck, a year ago.

Therefore it behooves every good American citizen to wait until he gets his right one for cheering. In the coming clashes between English and American athletes—tennis, polo, yacht racing—the latter will do well to strive mightily for the first jump and the first whack if they want a chance to repeat.

Not meaning to be deary or gloomy but merely to prepare for any eventuality, the idea of need for speed in "The States" this year is emphasized by reports of the possibilities on the boat which Sir Tea, Lipton has built to trim the Yankees in the Cup contest. Extraordinary, surprising, startling, ugly and rangy are some of the adjectives dug from N. Webster's collection to describe the Lipton boat by the first American to inspect her. The rules of the race prohibited Designer Nicholson from building a scow or freak. Nicholson, adhering strictly to the letters of the prohibitive rules has laid down about the best little old combination freak-and-scow hat yet seen. The Sham rock is said to be neither a scow nor a freak. But it is said to combine the best features of each of these classes.

The vast spread of canvas is said to be especially startling. The huge rig has to have special fixings to make it stay aloft. By these special devices an extra spread of six feet at the base is obtained. Oh, yes; one other adjective was dug from the Webster collection in painting a picture of Sir Thomas's challenger for Americans. "Marvel" is the word. However, Americans have the satisfaction of knowing that the American boat will be named by sailors of the same nationality as Captain James Lawrence, John Paul Jones, and George Dewey. Which is some consolation.

It will be speed and cleverness against stamina and punch when George Carpentier meets Gunboat Smith in London the last week in June. Not but that dear Carpentier hasn't a punch, and not that our Gunboat isn't clever, but merely that the Frenchman looks better as to cleverness and that the American is believed to excel in the ability to hit. One thing is certain. If both men extend themselves instead of tangoing, the spectators who take in the international battle at Barge's Club should see a whang, slam, bang-up, scrap. And according to dope, Americans in London who say they will bet their shoes on Gunboat, ought to make a killing. Of all the fighters whom America has sent ahead for England to give the once over, Smith probably will make less impression in appearance than any who have gone before. But Smith is deceptive when it comes to shape and size. And if he gets through Carpentier's defense with a sleep-wallopp, the Americans won't be the only ones who'll cheer. Britons remember what the sensational French youth has done to their own once pride and hope Lombardier Wells. Anyone who talks English and beats Carpentier can take lunch with the King. That's the way these badly Britishers feel about it.

The Goner, he it remembered not only carries a kick in either mitt, but he can take a lot of punishment. Be it remembered also what Tommy Murphy once said of Smith whom the latter not wanting to hurt Tommy, hit him on top of his head, "where the didn't hurt my head but he drove my body down into my feet and nearly broke the arches of my instep."

A punch like the one handed to Murphy delivered amidships to carpentier would make the Frenchman forget all the cleverness he ever had.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM.

The fire department was called to box No. 43, corner of Morgan and Seventh streets, last evening about six o'clock but it proved a false alarm. A fire in an alley and the reflection against a house lead someone to believe there was a fire and the alarm was sounded.

NEXT MEETING TO BE HELD HERE

Delegates to Annual Meeting of Sunday Schools of Flatrock Baptist Association Pick Rushville.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Rev. S. G. Huntington of First Baptist Church Makes What is Considered Best Talk of Meeting.

Delegates and others from here attending the annual meeting of the Sunday schools of the Flatrock Baptist association at the Mt. Moriah church at Adams, Ind., have returned home with the news that the next annual convention of Sunday schools will be held in this city June 1, 1915.

The Rev. S. G. Huntington, pastor of the First Baptist church here, here, made a splendid address, what many considered the best one at the convention. He was also a member of the committee on statistics.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, J. O. Brison, Waldron; vice president, Lewis Boger, Shelbyville; secretary, Miss Mae Kennerly, Shelbyville; and treasurer, E. B. Spangh, Hope.

There were more than one hundred in attendance and the meeting was a very enthusiastic one. Responses to roll call found the following churches represented: Shelbyville Greensburg, Rushville, Hope, Lewis Creek, Mt. Moriah, Salem, Waldron and second Mt. Pleasant. The Rev. S. L. Essick, of Hope, had charge of the devotions and the president of the convention, J. O. Brison, presided at the meetings.

"How to Secure Study of the Lesson" was the subject of the Rev. Seldon L. Roberts' talk. He urged the teachers to make the lesson so interesting as to create in the pupil a desire to study it, and admonished them to not ask the pupil to do anything which they themselves do not actually do. Two recitations by Master Dale Pumphrey, of Hope, delighted the large audience. By request of the president, the Rev. Mr. Roberts gave another address on the "Standards of Sunday School Work."

The first thing on the program for the afternoon session was a talk by the Rev. O. A. Cook, pastor of the Second Mt. Pleasant church. His subject was "Personal Visitation." Miss M. Huckleberry of Muncie, followed the Rev. Mr. Spear and talked on the "Elementary Work in the Sunday Schools."

The evening session was the largest and most enthusiastic of the day, crowds from the surrounding community packing the church. Special song service was rendered by the orchestra, the Rev. Mr. Pavey of Waldron, being the leader.

A PLEASING FROCK OF WHITE BANDED AND BOWED IN BLACK SATIN

Black and white combinations are still in the lead although, as the season advances, there is a tendency toward brighter hues as a sort of reaction from sombre skies and chilly days. Among the new colors are various shades of green. Green is undoubtedly one of the most becoming shades a woman can wear if just the right tone is chosen; it is said that a French woman considers a green frock quite as indispensable to her wardrobe as a black one.

An attractive tulle frock for afternoon is shown in 8419; a soft green, between a leaf and a lettuce shade is the color, relieved by a bit of black velvet ribbon at the throat and a bit on the 'bousée' and sleeves. For size 30, this design requires 2½ yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8419) and 3¼ yards of the same width for the skirt (8420).

The little dress shown in No. 8412, is a suspender design of dark blue serge worn over a blouse of white muslin. For a child of eight, 2½ yards of 36-inch material is needed. Black and white tulle frocks are happily combined in this costume with black satin; the sheen of the satin offers a pleasing relief to the dull finish of the tulle. The banding on the tunic comes up in the back and finishes in a broad Japanese bow. This frock may be copied in size 30, with 6 yards of 36-inch material.

No. 8419—sizes 32 to 42.
No. 8420—sizes 22 to 30.
No. 8412—sizes 8 to 14.
No. 8400—sizes 34 to 42.

INDIANA WILL GET GOOD START

Will be Ahead of Other States in Case Vocational Educational Bill is Passed.

THE COMMISSION RECOMMENDS

Is in Good Position to Take Proposed Appropriations—Other Legislation Necessary

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, June 4.—Indiana, above all other states, will get a running start towards federal aid in vocational education in case the bill just drafted by the federal board for vocational education becomes a law. The advantage held by Indiana, it is said, may largely be attributed to the fact that John A. Lapp, Indiana's representative in the Federal board, drew up both the federal bill and the Indiana law concerning vocational education. The same ideas prevail in both. Whereas Indiana is ready immediately to accept federal aid, most other states must first go through the legislative steps that Indiana has been taking in the past few years.

The United Press has obtained from Mr. Lapp, who is director of the Indiana bureau of legislative information, an instructive statement, explaining just what the new vocational education bill would mean to Indiana, should it become a law.

BY JOHN A. LAPP
(Written for United Press.)

The commission on vocational education has decided to recommend that federal grants be made to aid the states in giving vocational education in agriculture, in trades and industries and in the training of teachers for these subjects and of home economies.

Under the terms of the proposal which it is hoped congress will enact into law, Indiana would receive for 1916, the sum of $14,700 for the training of teachers, $23,400 for trade and industrial education and $15,800 for agricultural education, or a total of $53,900 if all of the grants are used. This amount increases each year for a number of years and when the maximum is reached in 1924 the State will receive each year $29,400 for the training of teachers and vocational subjects, $80,400 for industrial education and $94,800 for agricultural education, or a total of $204,600.

Indiana is in a particularly fortunate position to take advantage of these appropriations. The first step, if the bill should be enacted, would be for the legislature formally to accept the provisions of the act and designate a board to have charge of the supervision of the education and the disbursement of the money, and also designate the state treasurer as custodian of the funds. In Indiana this board should be the state board of education. The board would then formulate a plan for the expenditure of the money, which would be submitted to the federal board for vocational education, composed of the postmaster-general, the secretary of the interior, the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce and the secretary of labor. If the plan is in accord with the provisions of the act, the money would be annually allotted to Indiana and placed in the hands of the state treasurer for distribution to approved schools, on the requisition of the state board. The state board would supervise the education and a report concerning it to the federal board.

The Indiana vocational education law, passed in 1913, provides for the same kinds of education which are the subjects of grants under the proposed bill. The funds given by the federal government will therefore supplement the funds which are given by the state for the same purpose. Indiana provides for aid to agricultural education, all-day industrial schools, part time industrial schools and evening industrial schools. The standards which the state board is setting up in Indiana for such schools are sufficiently high to receive the additional grants from the federal government without question. With these funds, plus the state aid and the local contributions for vocational education, Indiana should move more rapidly toward the development of a complete scheme of vocational education, which means the education of all the people regardless of whether they work with their heads or with their hands.

One particular feature of the proposal of interest to Indiana is that at least one-third of the fund for industrial education must be used for part time schools for young workers, that is, schools which give a few hours instruction per day or per week to young persons already employed. This is a form of education which badly needs development because so many of our young people go to work before they receive sufficient education for their life work or for civic intelligence. This fund will be a special incentive for the authorities of Indiana schools to set up part time education.

The training of vocational teachers is admittedly one of the most pressing problems in Indiana as well as in other states. The commission thought it wise therefore, to give a large sum for the training of teachers the first year, in order that steps could be taken at once to meet the needs. Under the provisions for training teachers the state board would have the entire control of such training and could apportion the fund which the state receives to any institution or to any schools which can give the training needed. It is possible that the fund might be used in one of the state institutions for the training of certain kinds of teachers or it might be used in connection with some industrial schools in a city to develop strictly trade teachers. The state board will use this according to the needs for particular kinds of teachers. If federal aid should be granted under the terms of the proposed bill the state should continue to be one of the leaders in vocational education.

The need for such education is apparent on every hand, everybody believes in it and I have entire faith that the congress of the United States will recognize the imperative duty to lend its support to a matter of such supreme importance to the national progress and welfare.

Absolutely Sanitary

A good Hirschman Mattress will give you a lifetime of comfort and satisfaction. Many mattresses are filled with unclean, unsanitary disease-breeding materials. The Hirschman "Kingston Special" contains nothing but pure, clean, sanitary cotton felt, from which every atom of vegetable oil or germs have been eliminated by the Hirschman process.

We Warrant Them

This mattress is absolutely germ-proof and non-absorbent. If the ticking becomes soiled you can scrub it with a brush and soap and water.

Before shipping to us each mattress was first wrapped in heavy paper and then sewed up in burlap. The usual custom is to throw the mattresses in a car loose. Every mattress is therefore clean, fresh and new and in perfect condition.

Honest All Through

The Hirschman "Kingston Special" Mattress is an honest mattress. It is made of clean, elastic, long fibre cotton, built up in layers by expert workmen. It will not pack, no matter how long it is used. It is five pounds heavier than the ordinary mattress, giving extra thickness and an added touch of luxury. Every mattress guaranteed perfect and warranted pure cotton felt.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, unless cases of Deafness (caused by catarrh) can be cured by Hail's Catarrh Cure. ARRESTED FOR WIFE DESERTION

William Poe, Resident Here Two
Weeks, Taken on Charge From Shelbyville.

RETURNED TO HIS OLD HOME

William Poe, a resident of this city for the past two weeks, was arrested last night on information received from the Shelbyville police department. He is charged with desertion and non-support by his wife in Shelbyville. The charge was filed in a justice of peace court there and the local officers were asked to make the arrest. Mrs. Poe alleged that her husband left two weeks ago and since that time has offered to support her. He was arrested at the home of his uncle, Henry Poe in West Ninth street.

Assistant chief of Police Morris of Shelbyville came here this afternoon and took Poe to Shelbyville where he will be given a hearing.

A REPRESENTATIVE'S PLEA

Esch of Wisconsin Urges Interstate
Commerce Commission be Given
Power Over Railroad Finances.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 4.—A final vote on the entire administration anti-trust program is scheduled in the house tomorrow. Debate on a third of the bills relating to railroads, stocks and bonds was to close tonight.

Opening the debate today on the Rayburn railroad securities bill Representative Esch of Wisconsin cited the present investigation of the New Haven railroad as a reason why the interstate commerce commission should be given power over railroad finances.

"Within the last year," he said, "the country has been aroused and innocent investors alarmed over the disclosure of the looting by men high in the financial world of such promising roads as the Frisco, the Rock Island, Pere Marquette, Boston and Maine and the New Haven. With publicity of stock and bonds and for which their proceeds are to be spent required by the pending bill, such financial jugglery would not be possible."

When Carranza reaches Saltillo he is expected to announce the members of his cabinet and the personnel of the entire government.

RAIN SOUTH OF HERE.

Farmers living near New Salem who were in Rushville today reported that a heavy rain fell in the southern part of the county this morning. That's more than can be said for Rushville or the northern part of the county which is baked for the lack of moisture.

LADIES'

WEAR

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS Appropriate Habilidad FOR SUMMER

It's worthy, interesting, charming, our showing of beautiful waists and blouses—an exploitation of 1914 styles too pleasing to miss. In matters of taste first impressions are best. One "learns to like" things for style's sake, sometimes, but what one likes at sight usually proves a lasting satisfaction. Our blouses this season are winning high regard not only for semi-dress, but for afternoon or evening wear. To be appropriately and neatly clad, choose liberally from our large assortment of dainty and sheer wash waists or the more ornate silk, lace or chiffon blouses. As a soloist utterly fails without a good accompanist, so does a beautiful blouse fail to show its worth unless supplemented by a neatly tailored skirt. The pre-shrunk wash skirts, made in the Wooltex factory are receiving the attention that they merit. There are many models, and a wide range of materials and prices. Don't neglect seeing them at your first opportunity.

Auto Accessories

You might as well be without a spark plug, as to be without a suitable coat for protecting your clothes when auto driving. We are showing several styles, and cannot fail to interest you. A splendid assortment, too, of auto hats, caps, helmets, veils and scarfs. Several of the tourists on their way through to the Speedway last week thought so well of our offering that they purchased the complete outfit. We can please you as well.
